Dear Sir or Madam,

Please find attached our comments on Core Strategy Development Plan which we would be grateful if you would submit to the Government Planning Inspector.

We have one further comment, specifically about the complexity of the consultation process which we would ask you to pass on to the relevant persons within the Bradford Metropolitan District Council.

A public consultation process should actively encourage comment from members of the public. The process and comment form you have created is complex and time-consuming and designed to make it unduly difficult for people to voice their opinions on the strategy. It will have put many people off making a representation which in the democracy we supposedly live in is completely unacceptable.

Many thanks.
