Having heard about the proposed development (LDF) in tong valley I feel I must record my objections.

I don't live in or near tong but I regularly walk & cycle there 3-4 times a week. Why would you even consider destroying green belt land (some of only a little left) in this area. The surrounding areas are densely populated and need some recreational space for their sanity & well being along with wildlife needing their habitat. I understand houses are needed I also understand it's more profitable to build on Virgin land. Regeneration of other sites in need would be money better spent k. My opinion
