Please find the attached comments which are the response of the Ben Rhydding Action Group in response to the consultation over the current stage of the Council's Core Strategy in regards to the proposed Development Plan.

I am mailing this direct as I have found it impossible to access or use the form the Council wishes people in Bradford to use and do hope that is no more than some IT problem as the form and the documentation that it has to refer to is just about the most consumer unfriendly I have ever come across - and I say that as someone who has had to design official government consultation forms in the past.
